Update on Future School Cancellations

February 1, 2022

Parents/Guardians,

Greetings! Given the prediction of possible severe winter weather later in the week, I wanted to provide you with an update on planned district actions in response to future school cancellations. The next day that the school district is closed due to weather will be treated as a traditional "snow day" and that day will be made up at the end of the school year. In the event of any future cancellations after that, all school closures will be converted to virtual learning days. In the event that a two-hour delay is initially called for a school day but then converted to a school closure, a delayed start virtual learning schedule will be followed on those days. Full-day and delayed start virtual learning schedules for each school will be located on the school's website at www.scschools.org immediately after the next school closure.

Thank you,

Bronson Stone
Superintendent
